DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 1 and 4 are objected to because of the following informalities:

In claim 1, "a output" should be changed to --an output--.

In claim 4, the relative term "so wide" renders the claim unclear because it does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the claim.

Throughout all the claims, all minor errors should be carefully checked and corrected including its proper antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 3, 4, 5, and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Der (5,672,959).

Der discloses voltage regulator including a transistor (M2), having a main current path between the input voltage terminal (V_{in}) of said voltage regulator and the output of said voltage regulator, comprising: an amplifier (MAMP) having an output being connected to the control terminal of said transistor (M2) and to the one input of which a voltage as a function of the output voltage (V_{out}) of said voltage regulator is applied, a transconductance amplifier (GM) having an output being connected to the other input of said amplifier (MAMP), a first resistor (Resr), a capacitor (C) wherein the one input of said transconductance amplifier (GM) is connected to a further voltage as a function of said output voltage (V_{out}) of said voltage regulator whilst the other input of said transconductance amplifier (GM) is connected to a reference voltage (V_r) dictating said output voltage (V_{out}) of said voltage regulator, and a further resistor (R_F) is coupled between the one input and the other input of said amplifier (MAMP).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 2, 6 and 7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
